STRIKERS FIGHT MEN WHO TAKE THEIR JOBS

Revolvers, Brickbats and Fists Serve as Weapons in Battle Between Workmen at Walkerville.

Detroit, Mich., April 10.—Michael Sullivan of Walkerville, Ont., was shot through the neck and other men were slightly injured in a fight between strikers and non-union workmen of the Canadian Bridge company's works in Walkerville, across the river from Detroit.

It is alleged that the strikers and their sympathizers followed the non-union men from the works at the close of the day with the deliberate intention of making trouble as soon as they reached the American shore. There were probably 200 men in both factions, and the fight, with revolvers, brickbats and fists, as weapons, began as soon as they had left the ferry at the Detroit wharf. The Canadians were driven back.

The police arrested four men, George E. Kennedy, Fred Metzner, Gustav Adams and Julius Stalter, all of Detroit. It is alleged that Kennedy shot Sullivan. Steve Ladue, also of Walkerville, was struck over the head with an iron bar. He and Sullivan were taken to local hospitals. Neither is dangerously injured.

Company Dismisses Telephone Girl and Loses Subscribers.

Philadelphia, April 10.—Officials of a company at Waynesburg, which operates telephone lines "throughout this locality, have been ordered by a hundred business men of the town to remove the phones from their establishments. The order came as a result of trouble between the officials and the operators in the Waynesburg exchange. The chief operator was asked to resign and the citizens signed a petition asking for her retention. This was disregarded and the other operators went on a strike. The subscribers say the charges of neglect preferred against the chief operator are groundless.

The family discovered her absence within a few minutes, but no trace could be found of the girl. They telephoned the police department at Edwardsville, and Chief Hentz put a pair of Texas bloodhounds on the trail. The dogs followed the trail unerringly and located the girl in the timber along a creek bottom, several miles to the north. She was still dazed, and knew nothing of her wanderings.

TWELVE-INCH GUN
BURSTS ON IOWA

ONE MAN IS DECAPITATED

Fragment of the Wrecked Gun Severs Head of First-Class Seaman Kleie, While the Other Two Are Horribly Mutilated—Cause of Accident.

Pensacola, Fla., April 10.—An explosion in the forward twelve-inch gun of the battleship Iowa resulted in instant death of three men and serious injury to five.

The dead are: Derry, gunner's mate; Kleie, first-class seaman; Percell, ordinary seaman.

The injured are: Brown, ordinary seaman; Gaught, first-class seaman; Mansdale, ordinary seaman; Purucker, ordinary seaman; Thursdale, ordinary seaman.

The Iowa was in the gulf at target practice with heavy guns and the forward port 12-inch piece had been loaded for fire. The charge was placed and a time fuse intended to explode at 1,700 yards attached.

Premature Explosion.

The report of the gun as it was fired was followed immediately by a second report, the shell having exploded prematurely. The gun was wrecked, over twelve feet being shattered by the terrific force of the exploding shell. Just as the explosion occurred the call to mess at 12 o'clock was sounded and about twenty men had gathered for dinner on the berth deck.

The pieces of shattered steel went in all directions, three pieces weighing over a ton each passed downward through the spar and gun deck to the third deck, falling upon the men at mess.

Severs Head From Body.

Three were instantly killed, the head of First-Class Seaman Kleie being severed from his body, while the remaining two were terribly mutilated. The shattered pieces of steel continued down through this deck to the armored or protected deck, where the heavy armored steel stopped the missiles from going further down on the machinists and firemen.

The deck of the Iowa was torn as though the heavy steel was pasted on, and pieces of the exploded gun and shell struck in various portions of the vessel, doing terrible damage. Had the explosion taken place five minutes later the list of casualties would have been ten times greater, as the men were coming down the gangway to the messroom when it happened. Great holes were torn in the three places as the heavy pieces of steel passed downward.

Shell Is Defective.

The men in the twelve-inch turret were not injured, and experienced little more shock than is usual when the large pieces are fired. The cause of the explosion, so far as known, was a defective shell or fuse. The piece was in good condition, having been fired about a dozen times during the last two days, and the officer in charge of the turret, Lieut. Reed, had made an inspection only a few minutes prior.

The Iowa was twelve miles out from Pensacola, and immediately ceased practice and came to the city, where the facts were reported to Rear Admiral Higginson. Surgeons from other ships of the fleet were signaled to assist the surgeon of the Iowa, and the injured were cared for. The three men killed were then brought ashore and embalmed. They will be buried with military honors at the navy yard.

PENNEL'S LAST STATEMENT
DOES NOT CONTAIN MUCH.

Does Not Tell What He Did the Night of the Burdick Murder.

(Special By Scripps-McLain.)
Buffalo, April 10.—The inquest into the death of Pennell and his wife began yesterday. Every effort is to be made by the authorities to bring out during the inquest anything that may throw light on the Burdick murder.

The most interesting testimony to be heard will be that of the stenographer who took Pennell's last statement. This statement is said to contain several assertions which it was generally supposed it would make but contains no references to other matters which it was supposed was also a part of the subject matter. Pennell does not confess the murder of Burdick or that he defaulted to the extent of three hundred thousand dollars. Denial of all intimate relations with Mrs. Burdick is made. He declares an unknown man killed Burdick but offers no alibi for the night of the murder until twelve.

Carbondale, Ill., April 10.—John and Garfield Shadowens are in the county jail awaiting the result of wounds inflicted on their brother-in-law, John R. Melton. The trouble is the outcome of a family feud. Melton is fatally wounded. Members of the Shadowens family during the past four years have figured in two of the most sensational tragedies of the section. In 1899 Wesley Shadowens, although past 70 years, with his two sons, Charles and Lemuel, with nine other miners, were tried for the killing of five negroes in Cartersville. All were acquitted. A year later James Jordan was killed and for the crime Robert Hadfield is serving a penitentiary term. Lemuel Shadowens testified during Hadfield's trial that he fired the fatal shot.

Berlin, April 10.—Heinrich Pariser, a wealthy money lender, was sentenced today to two years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $2,500 for usury. Another manufacturer who paid interest at the rate of 100 per cent, for a short term loan of $5,000. Aged Woman's Death Will Cause Inquiry Into Home Management.

Bloomington, Ill., April 10.—The announcement that Mrs. Sarah Roberts, an aged inmate of the Odd Fellows' home of Mattoon, had killed herself because she was about to be expelled, has aroused the greatest indignation at Lexington and all through central Illinois, and a searching investigation will be demanded. Sensational developments are looked for, as the lodge at Lexington claims that no less than four inmates have been turned out in the past and forced to appeal to the authorities for shelter. Mrs. Roberts resided in Lexington for thirty-five years, and the lodge there had been paying for her care, receiving $600, her total possessions. A contract had been made, and the lodge insisted that she be sheltered.

MANY LIVES ARE LOST
IN FIERCE CYCLONES

Windstorms Spread Desolation and Death in Alabama and Remote Sections of Arkansas.

Birmingham, Ala., April 9.—Without warning the little hamlet of Hopewell, forty miles north of this city, was swept away by a cyclone which cut a path of desolation a mile wide and two miles long across a prosperous farming section of Blount county. Twelve persons were instantly killed, three or four fatally and a score seriously injured.

In Arkansas.
Little Rock, Ark., April 9.—Specials from several towns in White and Cleburne counties, Ark., tell of a cyclone which, swept through that section, leaving death and destruction in its wake. The section is remote from railroads, telegraph or telephone lines. Thus far it has been impossible to ascertain where the storm began, but it is known that it raged in those two counties. The list of casualties so far as known is nine dead, three fatally hurt and thirteen others badly injured. The towns of Little Red, Abilene, Bradford, Heber and Pangburn have been heard from thus far.

Bradford, which is on the Iron Mountain road, was the first point heard from. Several houses were blown down there and one man badly injured. The tornado came from the west and spent its force by the time it reached Bradford. It is feared the little town of Hiram, with a population of 150, has been wiped off the map. It is near Heber and was in the storm's track. Nothing has been heard from it. It probably will be several days before the names of all who were killed by the tornado are known.

ANOTHER TALK BY REV. DENISON

Gives an Interesting Lecture Illustrated by Stereoscopic Views, on Christ's Resurrection.

Rev. Denison again entertained a number of the members of the Congregational church and their friends with his stereoscopic lecture, in the parlors of the Congregational church last evening.

Rev. Denison spoke at length about the appearance of Christ to His disciples, of their delight upon seeing Him again and of His word of encouragement and instruction to carry on His work.

Was illustrated. The scenes were illustrated with stereoscopic views taken from paintings by German and French artists, throwing upon the screen a clear and beautiful picture of these meetings.

Were interesting. The series of talks by Rev. Denison have been very interesting and instructive to those who have taken advantage of the opportunity to hear them, and those who have been there appreciate his kindness in affording them the chance to get a better and clearer knowledge of this period of Christ's life.

Of Much Benefit

The previous meetings of this club have been well attended and all of the meetings have been of great pleasure and interest to the members.

There are about 160 young business men who belong to the club and all of whom are taking an active part in the programs. It is a matter of great credit to the citizens that a city of this size is able to support two such organizations as the Social Union club and the Twilight club.

Organizations of this kind are productive of great good to a city in which they are located as well as to the members who belong.

TO JOIN CHURCHES ON SUNDAY NEXT

Many Will Be Admitted as a Result of the Biederwolf Revival.

As a result of the recent revival meetings conducted by Rev. Biederwolf and Prof. Stout a large number of people will be taken into the churches on the coming Sunday, just how many there will be is not known at present, but the number runs up into the hundreds.

This is very encouraging to the local pastors, who are feeling much delighted over the outcome of the meetings. The Congregational church will not admit their new members for at least a week, but the other churches will do so next Sunday morning.

A Delightful Surprise: Nearly half a hundred friends of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Prieu surprised them last evening at their Milwaukee avenue home. The occasion was the twelfth anniversary of their marriage. After the evening had been spent at cards and in playing games, appetizing refreshments were served. Before departing the unexpected guests left a handsome rocking chair as a substantial token of their good wishes.

Philomathian Club: The Philomathian club will meet with Mrs. J. P. Thorne, South Bluff street, Saturday afternoon, April 11, at three o'clock.

They will be accompanied by the wives of the members of the diplomatic corps; members of the supreme court of the United States; members of the cabinet; members of the joint committee of congress; the admiral of the navy; the lieutenant-general of the army; the grand marshal; the governors of the states; the officiating clergymen and members of the national commission.

The formation and conduct of the parades and escorts on each day will be announced by special orders of the grand marshal, Major-General Henry C. Corbin.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, April 19, 1893.—The Monitor does not give a solitary figure of the returns of the charter election, and in no shape indicates the name of any officer elected. It only sees in the result the loss of the city's printing, for which it has made the most frantic efforts and for the loss of which it is inconsolable.

It is pretty certain that Charles-ton was attacked on Monday last but there is no news of the result. It is inferred from the indisposition of the rebels to give us information, that it is unfavorable to them.

The pupils of the Second ward school had a pleasant and very profitable exhibition last evening upon the occasion of the close of the school. We can truly say that we have never attended a meeting of this kind with which we were so well pleased. There was no effort to go beyond the capacities of the pupils, but in all their exercises they came quite up to the expectation of the large audience present, and went even beyond what many considered possible.

At the annual election held by Hook and Ladder company No. 1 last night the following officers were elected: W. T. Paul, foreman; Ben Bornhelm, assistant foreman; R. Geddes, secretary; James Shearer, financial secretary; D. Dowling, treasurer; Charles Wills, librarian; Thomas Fruser, steward.

WENT TO ROCKFORD IN PIONEER DAYS

The Proprietor of a West Milwaukee Street Store Was an Early Settler in Illinois.

E. Hall of this city, one of Rockford's early settlers, made a trip to that city Tuesday. The Rockford Star of yesterday's issue made an extensive mention of Mr. Hall and his relation to the early history of northern Illinois. One paragraph is quoted.

"He is E. Hall, the man who brought the first stock of dry goods to Rockford in the thirties. He came by ox team from Chicago and set up his store on the west side. It was a general stock, suited to the time and the country and the trade was good. He remained in business here for a number of years and moved to Janesville where he is now proprietor of a general store and still in active business."

BELOIT WANTS AN ELK LODGE

Line City Feels That It Must Be Counted in with the Antler Tribe.

Two of Beloit's young business men, Messrs. Van Wart and Foster, were in conference with a local committee of Elks last evening. They came to this city to investigate the possibility of securing a lodge of Elks in the Line City. For some weeks a movement has been on foot in that city to form a business men's club, but without result. Recently the sentiment has turned from the club project to the organization of a lodge of Elks. A number of representative young men of the city have expressed their desire to comprise such an organization. If the necessary arrangements could be made, if the project goes through the local lodge will doubtless take an important part in setting the Beloit order on its feet.

SHOWS CONTINUE TO BE PLEASING

The Caskell Stock Company Give a Good Melodramatic Entertainment Each Evening.

One of the old reliable "lits in a great city" plays—"The City of New York"—was heard at the Myers Grand last evening. In the hands of the Caskell Stock company the audience was well pleased. Just before coming to this city the company struck a run of hard luck in the loss of several of their leading members, and it was necessary to put on some new actors on opening in this city. These latest additions have tickled the hard proposition that confronted them in good style, and the company as a whole is getting into better shape every night.

The same statement applies to the Myers Opera House orchestra, so far as improvement is concerned. As the members are becoming accustomed to playing together the gain in ensemble work is noticeable. The numbers by the orchestra and the specialties offered by the company are a pleasing feature of the performances.

SUES COMPANY FOR LARGE SUM

Mrs. Florence Wheeler Asks the Berlin Works, of Beloit, to Pay for Husband's Death.

Mrs. Florence Wheeler of Beloit, wife of the late A. B. Wheeler, has brought suit for damages against the Berlin Machine works for the death of her husband. J. J. Cunningham went to Beloit yesterday to serve the papers in the action. Mr. Wheeler was killed in the wheel house of the Berlin works in Beloit last July. Just how the accident happened is not known. No one was present at the time. It is thought that he entered the room to oil the machinery and that he was caught by an unprotected part of the gearing.

PROVERBS COUNT IN BALL GAME

EZEKIELS AND DANIELS PLAY AT BASE BALL.

DOWIE'S WONDERFUL LEAGUE

Coaching from the Side Lines With Bible Quotations, Is Declared Good Form.

Everybody but the sporting editor of the Zion City Banner—John Alexander Dowie, editor and publisher—must have fallen by the wayside last week, for in the issue which came from the presses yesterday the first page was given over entirely to base ball and cricket, and the leading articles inside were devoted to tennis and golf.

Baseball was given the place of honor in the first page, first column Elijah No. 2 has organized a league made up of four teams, and these will battle for the Zion City championship. The nine are the Elijahs Ezekiels, Daniels and Jobs.

It is said the opposition teams feared the Elijahs might have some sort of pull which would render superior base ball playing useless, and they didn't propose to have any unseemly force turn a home run into a base hit—if they could help it. An agreement that each nine was to play upon its merits, however settled the question.

Exciting First Game
The first game of the season was played yesterday afternoon, when the Ezekiels defeated the Daniels by the score of 12 to 8. The Daniels are said to have filed a protest, though, claiming that the captain of the Ezekiels used unfair tactics in coaching his men. The story is that with a man on third and two out, he shouted:

"Come on—play off there—remember Proverbs 14:11—play off there; you'll get back as quick as the ball—now—slide—back—keep your thought on Genesis 6:xxviii—get up there—ah!"

It was argued that this was as fair as the attempt made by the Daniels to rattle the pitcher of the Ezekiels. After allowing two base hits and a three-bagger in the third inning the Daniel rooters began to sing:

"Hold the fort, for I am coming."

Dowie Will Settle It
Mr. Dowie is president of the baseball league, and it is expected that before the Jobs and Elijahs meet Saturday, he will have passed upon the question of what is legitimate coaching and rooting.

John Alexander Dowie today is to bowl the first ball in a cricket match which will be the first of the season. All games are opened with prayer and song. The umpire—who must according to the rules be a deacon—call the game with a remark like this:

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

On and after April 1st, 1903, no contract will be made for business local. The rate for this advertising will be ten cents per line for each and every issue of either Daily or Weekly. The Gazette adopts this policy for two reasons:

First. To improve the news columns of the paper. The consideration of any newspaper, is the readers and its value to the advertiser depends entirely upon its popularity with the reading public. Business local frequently flood the composing room the last hour before the paper goes to press, and news is sacrificed to meet the demands of this class of business. Second. The Daily Gazette is rapidly extending its circulation throughout the county, giving the Janesville merchant an opportunity to talk to the farmer as well as the city customer, six days in the week. This means faster machinery, and increased expense in producing a paper as well as increased value for advertising purposes.

The Gazette has also adopted what is known as the space rate for display advertising, and prices have been placed within the reach of all advertisers.

The paper has long enjoyed a liberal patronage from home merchants, and it is in position today to furnish better service than at any time in its history.

GAZETTE PRINTING COMPANY

ROOSEVELT DEALS FINAL BLOW
Des Moines Capital: The so-called "Iowa Idea" has been hit some hard blows during the current week, now drawing to a close.

Senator Allison struck the first blow in an interview in the Chicago Tribune.

Secretary Shaw pronounced against it in most emphatic terms in speech at Peoria, saying that it originated with the leading democrats of the country.

Then Secretary Root, in a speech before the Home Market club of Boston, outlined the true doctrine of republicanism, pronouncing emphatically against tariff changes and against any disturbance of the present American prosperity.

The public utterances of these three distinguished men, two of them members of the presidents cabinet, surprised nobody except a few men in Iowa who had been misinformed as to the policies and purposes of the national administration. Their utterances surprised nobody outside of Iowa. The position of the administration, as defined by Shaw and Root, was so entirely expected that there has been no particular comment in the republican press through out the country.

But it remained for the President of the United States to give the "Iowa Idea" its final blow. The president has a direct way of doing things, and when he has spoken, he leaves no chance for a misunderstanding of his meaning. At Milwaukee he discussed the trust question at great length, telling of all the legislation and legal proceedings that have been done and are in progress in an attempt to curb the trusts.

The President makes it clear that he has no confidence in tariff rippers as a means of destroying trusts. He left no room for a misunderstanding in discussing the different remedies proposed for the trust evils, he said: "Others are so obviously futile, that it is somewhat difficult to treat them seriously or as being advanced in good faith. High among the latter I place the effort to reach the trust question by means of the tariff. You can, of course put an end to the prosperity of the trust by putting an end to the prosperity of the nation; but the price for such action seems high."

Since the president has spoken for himself, it is not necessary for anybody to attempt to speak for him.

And, since the president has spoken, there need be no further misunderstanding as to his position. He does not believe tariff rippers a good remedy for the trusts. He does not believe it necessary to throw the American market to ruinous foreign competition simply to destroy great American combinations.

It would now seem time for the dominant faction of the republican party in Iowa to get into line with the republicanism of our president and our national leaders, who have had no sympathy with the Iowa Idea from the start, as has been known to many Iowa republicans.

It will be unwise to undertake to create a republican faction in Iowa in opposition to the national republican party. It will be unwise to undertake to do it in the name of progress, or for any other purpose.

The state of Iowa is strongly republican, and Iowa republicanism ought to be the same as national republicanism. In fact, there is but one kind of republicanism, and that stands for a protective tariff, without apologies to anybody or any set of men on earth.

The conservative republican press of Iowa is not in sympathy with Governor Cummins on his tariff reform ideas, neither is the better element of the party throughout the state. Such men as Shaw, Henderson, Dooliver and Clarkson, men who represent the principles of the party, are not carried away with theoretical reform.

It would be better for the state of Iowa if the two leading parties were more evenly divided. The state is so strongly republican that it is top heavy, and it has so many populist tendencies that all sorts of issues spring up in the party.

It was badly frightened with green backism a few years ago, and later suffered from a spasm of prohibition. The granger movement, has fought railroads and other corporations so persistently that all manufacturing has been driven from the state.

The republican party can hardly afford to follow the leadings of this kind of a state and national questions, and Governor Cummins will not be surprised if his popularity as a leader is short lived.

THE NEW COUNCIL

"Progressive Democracy" will not have much of a representation in the next council. The four new League candidates will have the support of the holdover aldermen from the first, second and third wards, and Mr. O'Connell, the new second ward man is in sympathy with the reform movement. This leaves the fourth and fifth with one representative each and unless they get in line, they will be exceedingly lonesome.

The Gazette is not authorized to speak for the next council. It is abundantly able to speak for itself. It is safe to assume that the atmosphere of the city hall will be purified and that there will be more publicity and less mystery about affairs in which the public are interested.

There is nothing about a city office that warrants an official in assuming the attitude of an autocrat. He is simply a representative of the people, elevated to a position of trust and responsibility.

There is nothing about his work that demands secrecy. He is serving the public, and the public have a right to know all about the service. He is expected to use horse sense in transacting public business, the same as he would in private affairs. When the city needs a horse he won't find it necessary to get together a company of congenial companions and go off on a jinking tour at any expense of $75.00 to buy an animal that might have been secured in the home market by paying a moderate commission.

Faithful service, whether public or private, is always commendable, and while the public may be inclined to be critical it is not difficult to satisfy.

Much will be expected of the new council, and it is safe to say that much will be accomplished by way of business reform.

THE MINNESOTA LAW.

The Minnesota primary election law is not at all popular in the opinion of Charles K. Benning of St. Paul, who is a guest at the Davidson. Mr. Benning says that the great objection to the statute as it now stands lies in the fact that it compels candidates for an office to make a tour of the district in advance of the nominating conventions and also necessitates the nominee going over the same ground again after he has been named for the office.—Milwaukee Journal.

If there was ever a visionary scheme foisted upon the state, it is the primary law scheme. It is a theoretical farce, the product of a single brain inspired by personal ambition. The people were content with conditions which had prevailed for half a century.

The primary law makes it necessary for a man to get down on his knees and beg for support. It will cost him more than a year's salary to be nominated and elected to office, and if he possesses the elements of independent manhood he will not submit to the humiliation of a campaign of this sort.

It encourages machine politics of the most designing type, and while it might be all right for Kansas it is all wrong for Wisconsin.

Whatever sentiment exists in the state, for the law, is manufactured sentiment, and the senate could do no better work when it reassembles, than to stay by the proposition already submitted.

There is no more demand for a radical primary law than there is for a railway commission. The state is prosperous, and the people are contented and happy. It is a good time to saw wood.

An Exchange says: To publish a newspaper filled with wireless messages is not so remarkable. We have specimens of newspaper making in plenty, where neither wires nor reporters are necessary. Fake writers have the wireless system, in so far as newspapers are concerned skinned alive.

The effort to besmirch the name of Henry C. Payne in connection with the alleged frauds now being investigated in the post office department, was a dismal failure.

For the next two weeks the president will be buried in the Yellowstone park. There will be no more speeches to commend or criticize. The people will not envy him the outing, and the rest so much needed.

Who made the discovery that the people were being defrauded out of their rights, and that the railroads of the state were beating the public to the tune of a million a year?

How long has "God's patient poor" been suffering? Ever since the flood, but they have managed to worry along comfortably most of the time.

Mr. Ruger made a good showing. If he had been a candidate his election to the supreme bench would have been reasonably certain.

The administration has the backing of all "fair minded democrats." Why shouldn't it have?

If there is any glory in defeat, organized democracy should be exceedingly happy.

Secretary Shaw is sound on the tariff, as well as on questions of finance.

PRESS COMMENT

Chicago News: Now that it has been settled that Nicaragua is not to have the canal the people of that country are proceeding with their revolution.

Evening Wisconsin: The ruling out of armor-plated pads by the intercollegiate football rules will make "bucking the line" a test of men instead of materials.

Chicago Record Herald: Think of the crash which would follow if Morgan should some time express a doubt.

Washington Star: Gen. Funston says that Dr. Parkhurst has been seeking notoriety. The great general can tell a man seeking notoriety as far as he can see him.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: In asking what Grover Cleveland stood for Mr. Bryan seems to forget that he stood for president three times and got it twice.

Chicago Chronicle: It is to be observed that the devil wagon kills insiders as well as outsiders with something that looks like partiality.

Marquette Eagle: The legislators will rest for ten days and perhaps will get back to Madison in a more harmonious humor.

Menasha Breeze: It is noticed that the people who go away to trade are always the first to cry out against those who do not stand by them.

New York Mail and Express: Will the social slaves of America be hung with black because the engagements of two adventurous British lordlings have been derailed?

Milwaukee Sentinel: The newspaper fraternity has a right to demand that Admiral Dewey shall blue pencil his interviews and mark the parts that are to be printed with an "O. K."

ONE-ARMED MAN WHIPS MASHER

Resents Insult to His Wife and Then Has Her Arrested.

New York, April 10.—Four men watched a masher insult Mrs. Mary Clark without making an effort to protect her. Mrs. Clark was returning home early in the morning from a visit to a sick friend. When she got off the car the man followed and seized her. The woman struck her assailant twice in the face and he, angry, hit her. Mrs. Clark then ran home and told her husband. Clark, who has but one arm, caught the masher and thrashed him soundly. Then he sent his wife for a policeman and had the masher arrested.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR BUILDING FIRE IN BASEMENT OF FLEURY'S STORE, MUCH DAMAGE BY SMOKE

Fireman Osgood Was Overcome—
Excellent Work of the Fire Department.

Fire in the basement of the Fleury store last evening threatened the destruction of at least one if not more of the business blocks on South Main street. The record of the fire department in extinguishing the blaze almost without damage, save that from smoke, will probably stand unequalled for some time to come. The alarm was rung shortly before midnight and the company was on the spot almost before the first round was so ended.

When the company arrived nothing but smoke was visible. The front and rear doors were forced, but there was no blaze on the first floor. The basement was then attacked. Entering both from the grating and the stairway and from the rear door to the cellar, the firemen searched for the location of the flames. A lead of hose was brought through the rear door, but no water was used until the source of the smoke was discovered.

Started Among Boxes

The blaze was found near the center of the cellar where it would have had a clear sweep at the building if once through the floor above. It had started in a heap of dry goods boxes and trimming material for window decoration. A few minutes work with the hose put an end to the fire. If the flames had secured any air, the chances of the building would have been very slim. As it was, they were smothered in the smudge of the basement, the only damage was done by the fumes of smoke which made their way through the entire structure, and into both the adjoining structures, the stores of J. N. Bostwick & Sons on the south and R. M. Bostwick on the north, where the stock was slightly damaged by the smoke. The beams of the main floor were slightly scorched.

Damaged by Smoke

The damage from smoke was much more considerable than was first estimated. The stock in the building Mr. Fleury says was worth, about $12,000 fully covered by insurance. Few articles escaped the smudge. The adjusters will be here on Monday to estimate the extent of the damage.

How the fire originated is a mystery. There were electric wires near the packing boxes and drapings where it started, but Chief Klein does not believe that they were instrumental in igniting the blaze. Sheriff Appleby was one of the first to discover the smoke, and he notified C. E. Jenkins, who lives in the flat above the Fleury store, and he telephoned in the alarm.

Osgood Overcome

Assistant Chief Osgood was prostrated by the smoke in the basement. He entered from the sidewalk with Con Murphy at the same time that another party under the direction of Chief Klein, went into the basement from the rear. Finding the smoke was too dense for him, he started out of the cellar. Instead of going the shortest way to the rear door, he made his way back as he had come in.

Just before reaching the window through which he could get out into the air he succumbed to the stifling atmosphere and fell over an obstruction. Murphy helped him out and he was taken to the McCue & Buss drug store where he remained for some time. No serious effects resulted from the accident.

Another Blaze

About seven-thirty this morning, an alarm was rung in from Box 18, and the company made a quick response. Before they were on the spot, the flames, which were in a head of inflammable material in the basement of Mrs. Woodstock's millinery store on West Milwaukee street, had been extinguished. The best work in this direction was done by Cal Jones, who carried several coal hods full of water down the stairs to the blaze.

EXCELLENT WORK BY THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Last Night's Blaze Demonstrated That They Were Fully Up to Snuff.

No subject was more freely discussed on the street today than the excellent record made by the fire department in extinguishing the blaze in the basement of the Fleury dry goods store last evening. It was a decidedly stiff proposition to put the fire lads up against. So dense was the smoke that it was necessary to grope about in the basement for nearly ten minutes before the location of the flames could be discovered. Chief Klein confessed that it was about as neat as any piece of fire killing that he had seen in his thirteen years' experience. The chief was the recipient this morning of a box of "Twilight" from Mr. Fleury.

STRANGE FACT IN ELECTION ALDERMAN SCHWARTZ'S FATHER- IN-LAW ALSO AN ALDERMAN. ELECTED FIFTY YEARS AGO

John Carlin Also an Alderman From the Fourth Ward, This City in 1853.

One of the curious and interesting features of the recent election was the fact that Alderman-elect Charles Schwartz in the Fourth ward, was elected alderman on the same day that fifty years ago his wife's father, the late John Carlin, was elected alderman from the same ward.

Mr. Carlin was elected alderman from the Fourth ward on the first municipal election held in Janesville after the city was incorporated. He served but one year but throughout his life here was prominent in city affairs. He died in 1858 and his widow lives with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schwartz.

Three Aldermen

When Mr. Carlin was elected there were three aldermen from the Fourth ward and his two companions in the city council were George W. Taylor and George H. Williston.

Early Days

Mr. Carlin served in the council in those days when the railroads were talked about and all communication with the outside world was done by stage and horse back riding. He was one of the pioneers of this section of the country and was a contractor and builder. It was he who built the pier for the railroad near the Monterey bridge, taking two years to complete the work.

Notable Election

This first election was notable for more than one thing. Aside from its being the initial step of the village into cityhood it was marked by one of the largest conflagrations that had occurred to the little village. The Stevens house, the largest of the three hotels of the city caught fire and was burned to the ground. At that time the city boasted of three hostleries, one on the ground where the Methodist church stands on Court street and the Stage house where the Myers now is and the Stevens house. The loss of the Stevens house was keenly felt and voters turned out from the polls to keep the fire from destroying the entire city.

Interesting Facts

It is a strange coincidence that Mr. Carlin's son-in-law should celebrate the golden anniversary of his father-in-law's election by himself being elected to the same office in the same ward. Mr. Carlin was married the same year he was alderman and later removed to Iowa and thence westward, dying in Colorado while en route to the Pacific coast.

COUNCIL MEETS TO CANVASS RETURNS

Session of the City Fathers Tonight—
Personnel of the New Council.

A meeting of the common council will be held this evening to canvass the election returns. Other business may come before the meeting but it is probable that it will be deferred until the next regular meeting, which occurs on Monday evening. That will be the final gathering of the present council, at which time the body will adjourn sine die. On April 21, the terms of the new council begins and at any time after that the newly elected mayor may call a meeting of the new council.

In the new council the aldermen will be Messrs. Lowell and Sale, in the First ward; Mills and Connell, in the Second; Judd and Matheson, in the Third; Hemming and Schwartz in the Fourth; and Murray and Schmidley, in the Fifth.

KNIGHT TEMPLARS WERE INSPECTED LAST EVENING

J. E. Durgin, Inspector general of the Knights Templars of Wisconsin, was in the city last evening and conducted the annual inspection of the local commandery. Work in the Knight Templar degree was exemplified. The work and records of the commandery were examined. There was a good attendance of the members of the commandery. Several Evansville members were present.

Committee Says Charges Reflecting on Him Are Sustained.

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—The ways and means committee of the house of representatives has filed its report on the investigation of charges preferred against Gov. Davis by Attorney General George W. Murphy on behalf of the state penitentiary board. The committee is divided in its findings, seven of the eleven members signing the majority report, finding certain charges sustained by the evidence. Three members signed a report exonerating both Gov. Davis and the members of the penitentiary board from any action of a criminal nature. A motion was defeated to postpone further consideration of the reports for one week. If the majority report is adopted impeachment proceedings may follow.

COLLINS CASE TO BE DECIDED SUPREME COURT WILL PASS ON IT APRIL 17. LONG TIME IN THE COURTS

The Case Has Been Argued and Re-argued for the Past Eight Years.

In the celebrated Collins damage suit against the city of Janesville a supreme court decision is expected one week from today. On an appeal from a decision rendered against the city by Judge Dunwiddie in 1902 the case was argued at Madison several weeks ago. The case has been before the courts for about eight years and in that time four decisions against the city have been returned, the judgments varying from $800 to $2,800. Injuries received by Anna Collins, the daughter of the late Patrick Collins, were the grounds on which the action was instituted.

Tried Four Times

The last reversal of decision was secured from the supreme bench, City Attorney Burpee succeeded in transferring the action from the Dane county court where the earlier trials had been held to the Rock county circuit court for trial. The fourth trial took place before Judge Dunwiddie in the February term of court, 1902. Verdict was in favor of the plaintiff for $2,500. Of this sum the plaintiff remitted about $900 and on motion of the defendant the sum was further cut down to $800 and costs.

Near Settlement

This time the case was near settlement, but disagreement as to the taxation of costs caused another appeal. The case was argued in the supreme court at Madison, March 21, by J. J. Cunningham for the plaintiff and M. G. Jeffris for the city. Decision is to be rendered April 17, Friday.

MARRIED TUESDAY NEXT AT THE BRIDE'S HOME Ceremony Will be Performed by the Reverend Paul Werth.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Emma Louise Richter of this city to Joseph A. Black of Eau Claire. It will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Richter at 151 Park avenue at eight o'clock in the evening of April 14.

A notable feature of the approaching marriage is the fact that both parties to the union are deaf and dumb. They were both of them formerly in the School for the Deaf and Dumb at Delavan, and Miss Richter was later in charge of the printing department at the School for the Blind. The ceremony is to be performed by the Rev. Paul Werth.

Exclusion Law Is Rigid.

Australia's exclusion law against yellow immigrants was applied to English laborers who came under contract recently. For a time it looked as though the "six batters" case would become a famous precedent. The Sydney authorities, however, yielded at the last moment and allowed the men to land, but they will hold up future British immigrants till the Australian labor agitators are ready to let them in.

Doctor Said Baby Would Die.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Revived and Cured Her.

When your nerves are tired and deranged, your nervous system is toned up and regulated. Dr. Miles' Nervine is the great Nerve Tonic and Regulator. Read what a grateful mother writes of what it did for her baby:
"My baby had sinking spells so bad we despaired of her life. Four or five times she would faint away and be all appearances dead. When she was eight months old she took a very severe cold and the doctor and all who saw her thought it impossible for her to recover. We hardly revived her from one sinking spell until she would go into another. One morning after a most wretched night spent fighting death and when all symptoms were growing worse, I remembered an almost empty bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and without saying anything about it I gave the baby nearly a half teaspoonful. Then I noticed she slept more naturally. She had no more spells that day, and in the evening I gave her a few more drops, which was all there was, and now though she is three years old she is well and strong and has never had the slightest symptom since the first attack. I know of several persons, among them relatives, who have used the Nervine with excellent results. It saved my baby's life. You have my permission to publish this as I wish to do all I can to benefit others."—Mrs. W. I. Totten, Portland, Ind.

LIMIT RIGHT TO CALL STRIKE

AFFRONTS WALKING DELEGATE

Contractor Refuses to Bow to Him and Court Holds Subsequent Action by the Association to Be Unjust, Unreasonable and Without the Law.

New York, April 10.—One of the most important legal decisions ever announced in the state on the question of the right of a labor union to order a strike was handed down by the Appellate division of the Supreme court.

It is in effect that a labor union has not the right to order its men to quit work where they are in receipt of the wages demanded by the organization, and where there is no attempt to employ nonunion workers, but where the only question over which there is any difference is a refusal of the employer to recognize the union or its representative.

Refuses Recognition.
In the controversy which led to the decision the Amalgamated Painters and Decorators, one of the constituent unions of the United Board of Building Trades, is the principal figure. Some of its members were working for John Beattie, a master painter, who had contracted to decorate the home of William B. Leeds, 987 Fifth avenue. A question arose as to the recognition of the union by Beattie, and he refused to treat with its walking delegates. Thereupon the union threatened that if Beattie maintained his position it would declare a strike of its members.

Secures Injunction.
As this meant a financial loss to Beattie, he met the threat by applying to the Supreme court for an injunction restraining David Callanan, president of the union, from ordering any such strike, or the body from carrying into effect any order of the kind that might be given. A preliminary injunction was granted, and after the hearing the complaint was dismissed. The strike was ordered and Beattie lost his contract. He took the case to the appellate division and the present decision is the result. Written by Judge McLaughlin, and concurred in by all the other judges.

It says in part:

Denies Right to Strike.
"The sole question is whether the defendant, because the plaintiff would not in a formal way recognize the association, or for an alleged affront to its walking delegate, has the right to maliciously cause parties who have entered into contracts with him to deliberately break them by means of threat, or actually, cause a strike of all the workmen in the employ of such parties."

"The methods here employed to compel the plaintiff to accede to the demands of the defendants are unjust, unreasonable and such as the law does not recognize and will not tolerate. As well might the defendants resort to physical force to enforce alleged rights or redress real or imaginary wrongs."

HOWARD BARTLETT IMPROVED

Ten Year Old Boy Nearly Cured of Spinal Disease by Osteopath

Howard Bartlett, 10 years old, the son of August Bartlett, of Oconomowoc, who has been at the residence of Dr. Warren B. Davis, 1920 Wells street since Christmas, for osteopathic treatment for paralysis induced by a spinal disease was so far improved that he was taken home yesterday in a wheel chair. He will come to the city two or three times a week for treatment. Dr. Davis said that he had hopes that the boy would completely recover the use of his limbs.

"He has improved wonderfully," said Dr. Davis. "When he came to the city last December, he was brought here lying on a board, and was utterly helpless. The regular practitioners had given him up, and was reduced to almost a skeleton. He had a curvature of the spine, and was deformed by having one shoulder higher than the other. The deformity has vanished, his functions are normal, he has regained the use of both arms and can move around in a wheel chair. Moreover he can sit up and even move his toes, a promising sign in his case. He has a ravenous appetite, and is gaining strength every day."

Mrs. Bartlett who has been here constantly, nursing her son, said that the improvement in his condition had been so great as to give her strong hopes that he would entirely recover.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

RAIL MERGER IS HELD TO BE LEGAL IS CHECK TO OTHER COMBINES

Court's Decision Declares Consolidation Is in Restraint of Trade and Therefore Inimical to Best Interests of People in Affected Territory.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—The United States Court of Appeals, by a unanimous decision has held illegal the formation by James J. Hill and J. Pierpont Morgan of the Northern Securities company, with its capital of $400,000,000, controlling the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroads, and enjoined its operations.

Every contention made by the United States government was upheld, and, although an appeal will be taken at once to the United States Supreme court, little hope is expressed that the decision will be reversed.

Blocks Seven, Mergers.

The decision not only puts the Northern Securities company out of business, but blocks effectively seven other great railway mergers which have been waiting to learn the fate of James J. Hill's first attempt at transcontinental consolidation. These mergers included a combination of the Rock Island, Frisco and Santa Fe systems; a securities company to control J. Pierpont Morgan's Southern railway systems; combinations of the Gould systems, the Harriman interests and the Pennsylvania and Vanderbilt interests. The St. Paul decision deals a death blow to these great consolidation projects by which half a dozen financiers—perhaps even one—would control absolutely the transportation interests of the country.

Text of Decision.

The decision, written by Judge Thayer, and concurred in by Judges Caldwell, Sanborn and Vandervanter, is sweeping and emphatic. It gives with great clearness the reasons why the merger of the three railroads in question is in restraint of trade and against the provisions of the Sherman law.

The court, in so many words, declares that the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Burlington railways are parallel and competing systems. The merger of these systems, declares the court, placed the control of the roads in the hands of a single person—to wit: the securities company, and destroyed every motive for competition.

Crushes Competition.

Judge Thayer declares, his colleagues assenting, that the organization of the Northern Securities company has accomplished the object which congress has declared illegal. He says: "Competition would not be more effectively restrained than it now is if the two railroad companies were consolidated under a single charter."

The court thereupon enters a decree to the following effect:

"Adjudging that the stock of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies, now held by the Securities company, was acquired in virtue of a combination among the defendants, in restraint of trade and commerce among the several states, such as the anti-trust act denounces as illegal;

Issues Injunction.

"Enjoining the securities company from acquiring or attempting to acquire further stock of either of said companies;

"Enjoining it from voting such stock at any meeting of the stockholders of either of said railroad companies, or exercising or attempting to exercise any control, direction, or supervision or influence over the acts of said companies or either of them by virtue of its holding such stock;

"Enjoining the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies respectively, their officers, directors and agents, from permitting such stock to be voted by the Northern Securities company or any of its agents or attorneys on its behalf, at any corporate election for directors or officers of either of said companies.

Damper on Dividends.

"Enjoining them from paying any dividends to the securities company on account of said stock or permitting or suffering the securities company to exercise any control whatsoever over the corporate acts of said companies to direct the policy of either.

"Finally, permitting the securities company to return and transfer to the stockholders of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies and all shares of stock of those companies which it may have received from such stockholders in exchange for its own stock or to make such transfer and assignment to such person or persons as are now the holders and owners of its own stock originally issued in exchange for the stock of said companies."
